Genesee Valley Conservancy

The Oak Tree Race benefits the conservation efforts of the Genesee Valley Conservancy. GVC protects 8,300 acres of land, including 2,800 acres along the race course. GVC strives "To protect the habitat, open space, and farmland of the Genesee Valley region." By protecting natural properties GVC preserves the rural character of Western New York, ensuring the preservation of our community's character and continued quality of life for residents.

GVC is a non-profit land trust. Nearly 800 members support our mission through annual membership donations.

Jim Kimball and the SUNY Geneseo String Band, one of several musical groups along the race course.
